

Mammography Technologist

Location:

Annex Medical Imaging, Toronto

Job Summary:

We are looking for a part time/casual Mammography Technologist.

Duties and Responsibilities:

Technologist must:

- be accredited in performing Mammography from a certified association.
- Have completed all relevant courses (IPAC, AODA, WHMIS, CME...)
- be comfortable with the use of computers
- be able to correspond and communicate with the CARs and OBSP
- be able to use digital mammography machine
- perform routine mammography
- be able to take cone compression and magnification mammography images
- have knowledge of breast anatomy and proper radiographic exposure factors
- be familiar with PACS/RIS
- maintain excellent relationship with patients and co-workers
- be knowledgeable about and follow company standards and procedures
- be able to work independently and as a part of a team

How to apply:

Please send your resume and your phone number to: info@annexmedicalimaging.com